

ECOLOGY AND HUMAN INTEREST

The problem of weighing the collective human interest in a nonpolluted environment against competing human interests, often economic ones.

An industrial plant, representing a (small, large, massive) financial investment, producing a product that is (unessential, very desirable, essential) to society and providing a (small, large, enormous) number of jobs, pollutes the environment in a (minor, substantial, major) way.